

Advanced Porous Materials PhD award.

The Association of Advanced Porous Materials (Advapor) is to offer a € 3000 award to the “best” PhD completed in the field of Advanced Porous Materials. Defense must have occurred in between July 2018 to August 2020.

The decision will be made by the steering team of the Advapor association and “best” will be judged on both technical merit and potential impact within our growing industry.

The award is designed to support the winning candidate in the presentation & publication of their work.

The award will be announced at the 2020 online Aerogel Seminar in Hamburg.

Any candidate wishing to apply for this award must submit a concise summary of their work to info@advapor.org by the 23rd August 2020.

Summary should include

Thesis Title

Research establishment name & supervisor/s

Detailed Abstract (2 pages maximum)

Duration of the work

List of associated publications

Contact details of applicant

Join now at our Website www.Advapor.org & help determine the future of Advanced Porous Materials.